As we continue to move forward in achieving the goals we have set for ourselves, we have found it necessary to make changes to our current staffing structure. It is with sadness that we say good-bye to Vickie Amron. Vickie has been a valued employee first by Temple Beth El and now by CTE. Her smile and warmth will be missed. We wish her all the best in her future endeavors and know she will truly be an asset to any company she works for.

Embracing the Krovei Yisrael in our Community

A few years ago, I was sitting with a former congregant whose son was seriously dating a lovely Christian young woman. The woman was a perfect fit for her son- she was kind, intelligent, caring, and fit very nicely into their family dynamic. They had been dating for a number of years and truly cared for one another. But despite her son's happiness, my congregant found herself sitting in my office in tears.

Rabbi, What did I do wrong? I feel like I somehow failed. We had Shabbat dinner every week. I sent my son to day school. How can it be that he is marrying someone who is not Jewish?

Of course, the mother had done nothing wrong. And her son, who is an intelligent, caring mensch, did nothing wrong either. He fell in love with someone who is not Jewish. A situation that can pose challenges, to be sure, but one which is reality for over half of Jews in America. As we spoke, I tried to explain to my congregant that looking at this issue through the lens of "failure" versus "success" was not as helpful as trying to explore the issue from a perspective of what kind of religious life her son and his partner might want to create for themselves.

This is not a new issue, but in light of the recent Pew Study on American Jews it has been a topic of conversation in the past few months. The Conservative Movement has been working through this issue in a thoughtful way for nearly two decades with the Federation of Jewish Men's Clubs at the forefront of creative, thoughtful and constructive thinking on this issue. Unfortunately, as a movement, we have not done a good job bringing our members into the conversation. I know this because both in my former congregation, and in our Torat El community, people often feel that because we are "Conservative," we are somehow antagonistic, or unwelcoming to interfaith families. But the truth of the matter is that while we have work to do, we too can be welcoming to interfaith families.

It is true that according to the current policy of the Rabbinical Assembly, Conservative Rabbis are not allowed to officiate at an intermarriage, nor are they technically allowed to attend. This is challenging to our members and it is also painful for your rabbis. We, like a huge majority of Jews in America, have many friends, and family members who are in interfaith relationships. To be clear, I would prefer that two people of the same religion (Jewish or otherwise) marry one another. I believe in endogamy and bringing people into the covenant through conversion in order to create a Jewish family. I believe that creating a family with a specific set of beliefs, values, and practices increases the possibilities of a healthy marriage and successful partnership and family life. I believe that the chances for serious Jewish family life are increased when both partners are Jewish. And yet, I understand that people do not always choose who they fall in love with and do not feel that intermarriage is, necessarily, a rejection of Judaism.

The most important question for me is this: Once someone is already in a serious relationship with a non-Jewish partner- how can I as a Rabbi, and we as a synagogue, encourage this family to bring the richness, meaning, wisdom, and beauty of Judaism into their life? How can I work, to bring these krovei yisrael (those who are close to the people of Israel) into our community? Because the research shows that there is a huge potential for actually increasing Jewish identity and affiliation by supporting these families and helping them to make Jewish choices.

Most of what we, as a Conservative synagogue do not allow, is related to issues of belonging to the covenant of the Jewish people and Jewish law. But allow me to share a few examples of those areas in which we have worked to create an environment that is welcoming, inclusive, and seeks to value interfaith families who wish to live Jewish lives. Gone are the days when your rabbi or synagogue will not congratulate you on a joyous occasion in your life. If someone in your family is getting married, to anyone, we will happily announce that in the bulletin and please let me know so that I can wish you a proper mazal tov! If you have a family simcha, such as a bar or bat mitzvah, both parents (regardless of religion) will come up to the bima to present their child with his or her talit, or surround him or her as he or she is given a Hebrew name. During either occasion, both parents will stand next to their child while she is given a blessing, and both parents will stand together as the Jewish spouse chants the aliyah in honor of this special occasion. Immediate family members who are not Jewish will be welcomed to the bima to read a number of English readings as they celebrate this milestone in their family. Contrary to popular belief, the bima does not have a force-field around it. It should be a welcoming space for all families who have chosen to raise a Jewish child. And when it comes to end of life issues, if you are in an interfaith family and wondering how to handle the situation of where to be buried- we recently voted to create a special section in our cemetery for interfaith families based on a recent legal response written by the Committee on Jewish Law and Standards.

These are just a few examples of ways that we are working hard to be welcoming and inclusive of interfaith families committed to living a Jewish life. I know that there is much more that we could be doing. But I need your help. If you are a parent, grandparent, or spouse, trying to navigate the complexities of a interfaith family- please share your story with me. We are more than willing to create programs to help facilitate discussions around this issue. To give just one idea, I would love to create a grandparents group for people in our congregation who are dealing with this issue. If you are interested in such a group, please let me know. If you know of people who have left our community because of pre-conceived notions, please help us to set the record straight. I have no problem with Jews who are committed to the Reform movement, but I struggle with Conservative Jews across the country, who find themselves in Reform synagogues because they feel that they have no place in their own community.

I will conclude where I began. Recently, the son of my former congregant joined us for a Jewish holiday. He and his spouse, who is a krov yisrael, were recently married and are working on finding a Jewish community that will help them access the wisdom and beauty of Judaism in their lives. It's too bad that they do not live in our community because I know that they could find a home at Congregation Torat El as we work to create a community dedicated to bringing all families closer to Jewish living.

Lomeyd V'oveyd--To Study and to Serve

Have you noticed the number of post-b'nei mitzvah who are returning to the Torat El bimah on Shabbat and Holy Days to assist the Rabbi and the Cantor by chanting Torah and Haftarah portions and leading sections of the service? These young people are part of Lomeyd V'oveyd (To Study and To Serve), an ongoing program started by Cantor Siegel to encourage our students to further develop their synagogue skills and to fulfill their obligation as B'nei Mitzvah by being of service to the congregation.

When a student has read 12 Torah aliyot, he or she will be presented with a beautiful tikkun (the special book used by Torah readers to prepare their portions). This volume, which will have the recipient's name stamped in gold on the cover, contains not only the entire text of the Torah, but also all the haftarot, the five megillot, and a perpetual calendar.

When 18 aliyot have been read, the student will receive an ornate enamel yad (pointer) to be used during Torah readings.

With the completion of 24 aliyot, the student will earn the title of Baal or Baalah Korey (Master Reader). A special plaque will be mounted prominently in the synagogue for the purpose of honoring those who achieve this elite level of proficiency and service.

In addition to reading from the Torah, students will also receive credit toward these goals for chanting haftarot and for leading portions of the service.

All students and adults are eligible and encouraged to participate. If you have questions about any aspect of Lomeyd V'oveyd, please contact Cantor Siegel.

Sefer So Good...Many Thanks

Thank you to volunteers Arlene Lutz and Sandy Epstein, who have devoted many hours to sorting, preparing, and entering into the CTE Library catalog all of the archival "stuff" that is housed under the window. These materials may not leave the room, but you can reminisce at your leisure in the sunny Library.

Thank you not only to Arlene and Sandy but also to Marcia Sacks, who have all helped get new material onto the shelves in a reasonable amount of time. Come in and take a look around. The current Sefer So Good that lists all the newest titles is on-line at www.torat-el.org under Library and is posted (on paper) on the bulletin board just inside the door, too.

Thank you to all who donated so generously to the 2013 Mitten Menorah! Whether new or gently used, the cozy 95 scarves (37 made by the h.s. students and faculty during bagel time), 41 pairs of gloves; 10 pairs of mittens; 59 hats; 10 scarf, hat, and glove sets; 6 hat and glove sets; 2 pairs of Magic Mitts; 4 headbands; 1 headband and gloves set; 1 hat and mittens set; 4 hat and scarf sets are keeping those who were cold a lot warmer through your donations to the Jewish Family and Children's Services of Asbury Park.

Thank you to all who donated to the CTE Library for the annual Jewish Book Month Children's Collection Development Campaign! Your names and the names of those you honored are listed elsewhere in this Bulletin. New children's materials with bookplates recording your generosity will be added asap!

Thank you to Nikki Shutman for volunteering on Sunday mornings for the last year and a half. The children always enjoyed their story times because of your expressive reading of the carefully selected books that were just right for their grade level. We all miss you and so appreciate your service. Best of good luck in graduate school and beyond!

Anne Siegel, Librarian

RELIGIOUS SCHOOL CHAI LITES

NEW INITIATIVE: PARENT TEACHER CONFERENCES ON SUNDAY FEB. 2

Dear Parents,

In the continuing effort to further improve our Religious School program, we are beginning a new initiative this year: Parent/Teacher Conferences for students in grades Kindergarten through 6th Grade. On Sunday, Feb. 2, 2014, there will be no Religious School classes. Instead, we will hold Parent/Teacher Conferences. During January, I will touch base with each parent so that we can schedule 10-minute conferences on Feb. 2 with each of your child's Religious School teachers. Parents with more than one child in the Religious School will have the opportunity to arrange back-to-back conferences with the teachers. I will ask the aids to be at the Temple on that day so that you may bring your children with you, and we will keep them engaged in the library while you are meeting with the teachers. Children will not participate in these conferences. Each conference will be a confidential meeting between the parent(s) and the teacher.

The intent of this initiative is to enhance the communication process between the teachers and parents, which will have a positive impact on the learning experience of every student. Thank you for your continued support.

Sincerely,
Ben Laskowitz
Education Director

SPECIAL THANKS TO NIKKI SHUTMAN

For the past couple of years, Nikki Shutman has served as an aid to our librarian, Anne Siegel. Nikki has done an incredible job helping to organize the library and reading to our students. Nikki is currently enrolled in Montclair State University's Communication Sciences and Disorders Masters Program, working toward her degree in Speech-Language Pathology. She will not be able to continue assisting in the library as she needs to concentrate more time on her studies. Nikki, thank you so much for your hard work, your devotion and your support, and good luck in your future endeavors!

UPCOMING 6th GRADE FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE

Shalach Manot Purim Baskets

Fulfill one of the mitzvot of Purim by ordering Purim baskets for Congregation Torat El members, staff, teachers, family and friends. Send a basket for only $5.00! Recipients receive one basket with a card listing the name of all who sent it to that home. The basket of homemade hamantaschen, candy and other goodies will be delivered by the start of Purim on Saturday, March 15, 2014.

The four mitzvot of Purim are: hearing the reading of the Megillah, giving monetary gifts to the poor, giving a gift of two different foods to at least one person and eating a festive Purim meal. Sisterhood is here to help!

PURIM BASKET ORDER FORM ON BACK OF THIS SHEET

*Checks payable to Congregation Torat El Sisterhood
$5.00 PER BASKET

$15.00 per BASKET for NON-Temple Members *within delivery area

Are you visiting relatives, going to a Purim party, need a house gift?
We assemble the basket - you pick it up at CTE on Sunday, March 9th

ORDER DEADLINE: Friday, February 21, 2014

Completed forms and payment may be dropped off at the temple office or mailed to:
Congregation Torat El 301 Monmouth Road Oakhurst, NJ 07755

*Payment in full guarantees your basket; late submissions will not be honored.

For questions, call/email: Jeanne Isaacson at 732-493-8375 or jeanneri76@gmail.com

WEDNESDAY LUNCH N'LEARN PROGRAM

Fall/Winter: Walking With Jewish History (from the Bible through today)

Spring: Walking With God (explore a variety of Jewish perspectives on God)

Are you looking for a way to add more meaning to your life? Do you enjoy learning and meeting new people? Do you like to eat lunch? Joins us and take one hour out of your busy week to engage in Jewish learning.

This year we will continue learning from the Ziegler Adult Learning Series produced by the American Jewish University. Our topic this fall and winter will be a survey of Jewish History. In the spring we will explore a variety of Jewish perspectives throughout the ages on God. Come and join us for these wonderful introductory courses. No experience or background necessary. Please bring a friend!

Wednesdays from 12:00-1:00PM

SHABBAT LUNCH N'LEARN

My People's Torah: Our mission statement reads that: We are a community building relationships with God, Judaism, and each other; through prayer, study, discussion, and action; guided by Torah, our traditions, those who came before us and our vision for the future.

Our monthly My People's Torah program seeks to help us build on existing relationships and create new ones as we hear different perspectives on Judaism and share in each other's personal life stories. Come and join us on the second Shabbat of each month as we learn from one another while fostering closer relationships among our synagogue family.

Second Shabbat of each month following services unless there is a Bar or Bat Mitzvah

THE FRIDAY NIGHT SERVICE

Join Cantor Siegel in finding out where and how the Friday Night Service originated? From Bar'chu to Yigdal we examine and explore how the service came to be the way it is, what it really means and how Jews around the world, through this service, begin Shabbat.

Sunday Mornings - 10:00-11:00am

LIVING ROOM LEARNING PROGRAM

Are you not able to stop by the synagogue to enjoy some learning? No problem- we will come to you! You choose the topic and we will provide the Rabbi. Rabbi Schonbrun will lead a group discussion in your home on a topic of your choosing as it relates to Judaism. Invite your friends and neighbors to join us. Please e-mail "rabbi@torat-el.org" to set up an evening. Groups of at least ten participants are requested.

JUDAISM AND MEDICINE: A MINI SERIES

Come join Rabbi Schonbrun and doctors from our congregation as we explore a number of critical and complicated medical issues from a Jewish perspective. We will discuss topics ranging from infertility, mental health issues, organ donation, Jewish perspectives on health and wellness, and end of life issues. Bring a friend and come with your questions. We are looking forward to learning with you! This program is open to the community.

Wednesday Nights at 7:30PM (Feb. 12, 26, March 5, 12, 19)

SCHOLAR-IN-RESIDENCE WEEKEND

We are excited to welcome Rabbi Shawn Fields-Meyer to CTE! Rabbi Fields-Meyer serves as school Rabbi at the Milken Community High School and is also Instructor in Bible at the Ziegler School of Rabbinic Studies. She is co-author of the book, A Day Apart: Shabbat at Home, a practical and spiritual guide to the home rituals of Shabbat. She frequently serves as Scholar-in-Residence at congregations around the country, addressing issues of prayer, spirituality, and parenting, and she facilitates support groups for parents of children with special needs. Rabbi Fields-Meyer is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania and received her rabbinic ordination from the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. She and her husband Tom, a writer, have three sons. While topics for the weekend haven't been confirmed, some choices include Texting, Technology & Torah: Spirituality and the Digital Age; Your Spiritual Toolbox: Bringing Jewish Prayer to Life; Family Guy? Mamma Knows Best? Cheaper by the Dozen? The Art of Spiritual Parenting in an Age of Spirited Kids and Lady Elijah: The Mystery Woman of the Torah. There will be a Shabbat Dinner, Kiddush Luncheon and Sunday Brunch (yes, it's also all about the food!)

SAVE THE DATE: FRIDAY-SUNDAY, MAY 16th - 18th

Please call the temple office to register for all Adult Ed classes.
732-531-4410
