Shavuot: A Chance for Renewal and Rededication

In a few weeks we will be celebrating the festival of Shavuot. Like the other pilgrimage festivals, Sukkot and Passover, Shavuot has Agricultural roots. The Torah tells us that beginning on Passover we are to count "seven weeks (Shavuot)" from the beginning of the grain crop until the end of that harvest. In Israel the spring harvest begins during the Passover season, and in the biblical period people would bring an offering of thanksgiving, as well as their new crop, to Jerusalem during this time of year to be eaten as a sign of appreciation and thanksgiving for God's beneficence. The agricultural aspects of this holiday are commemorated today by the counting of the Omer, a biblical measurement of grain that was to represent a portion of the crop that was brought daily during the forty-nine days between Passover and Shavuot. But the truth is that by the rabbinic period, with the Temple no longer standing, Shavuot became associated with the giving of the Torah—an event that traditionally occurred during this time of year as well. It was from that point on that the giving and receiving of Torah became the primary focus of Shavuot.

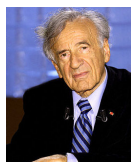

As Shavuot approaches, the question we must all ask ourselves is this: What does it mean to receive Torah? We view the revelation of Torah at Sinai as an ongoing event in our lives and not simply as something from our past. That is why the blessings before and after the Torah praise God for "giving" us Torah (Noten Ha Torah). Here and now, in its broadest sense, the Torah is here for us to embrace in every aspect of our lives. The fact that Shavuot follows Passover is a reminder to us that we were freed from Egypt for a purpose. That purpose is to live lives of Torah and bring Torah values into the world. Torah has the power to profoundly affect our lives, the lives of our neighbors, and the world around us. On Shavuot, we join together to open ourselves to the wisdom, power, beauty, and potential of this holy gift.

So how exactly do we do this? How can we bring Torah into our daily lives? Below is one text that gives us some insight into this question. It is a rich and challenging text that I invite you to study, perhaps with family and friends, in an effort to re-commit yourself to the mitzvah of receiving Torah in your life.

The Torah is acquired by forty-eight (qualities); study; attentive listening; ordering one's lips, understanding of the heart (mind), a perceptive mind, awe, reverence, humility, joy, purity, listening to the sages, association with colleagues, arguing with disciples, patience in study, (knowledge of) Bible, Mishnah, limited income, limited sexual relations, limited pleasure, limited sleep, limited discussion, limited laughter, slowness to anger, a good heart, belief in the sages, acceptance of suffering, the one who knows his place, who is happy with his lot, who sets a limit to his words, and does not seek credit for himself, who is loved, who loves God, who loves people, who loves righteousness, who loves justice who loves criticism, who stays away from honor, who does not arrogantly show off learning, who does not enjoy judging others, who accepts the yoke of his friend, who judges his friend favorably, and sets him on the path to truth and peace, and sets his heart on his studies, who inquires, who responds, who listens, and who contributes, the one who studies in order to teach, and the one who studies in order to act, the one who sharpens his teacher, and who is precise in his teaching, and the one who says something in the name of his fellow for you have learned: Everyone who mentions something in the name of his fellow it is as if he has brought redemption to the world: as it says: Then Esther said to the king in the name of Mordechai.... Pirkei Avot, 6:6

What parts of this text do you find compelling? Challenging? How does this text play out in your daily life? Are there some qualities that you think are missing from this text? As always, I would love to hear your thoughts, insights, and questions. Please feel free to call or e-mail. For more on practical ways to bring God and Torah into your life, please join us on Tuesday night, June 7th at 7:30 pm, as we partner with Temple Beth Miriam for a joint Tikkun Leil Shavuot, night of study, (and cheesecake!). Shavuot services will also be held on June 8th and 9th. We look forward to celebrating with you!

From the Desk Of Alan Stern, President

Gratitude

As I reflect on the past two years as president, one very trite phrase keeps popping into my head—it's been an incredible run! From a meeting at the Americana Diner some 3- ½ years ago when my good friend, Dr Bill Belfer, ignited a spark in me to push Temple Beth Torah to finally unify with Temple Beth El came a series of events that were, to say the least, eventful, historic, and, in a very good way, stunning!

And as I prepare to hand over the reins of leadership to a wonderful group of devoted people, I feel the need to give thanks to the many people who have helped me and, in many instances, kept me focused on the huge reward we are about to reap. In reality, the successes of the past two years are not mine alone. I got by with a little help from my friends, and this column is for them. At the risk of an error of omission or two for which I'll apologize now, I will name names.

Rabbi Jacob Friedman reintroduced me to my Judaism shortly after I moved to this area. His impact on my life continues to be profound. His inspiration drove me to become an active member of a Jewish Community and his wise and gentle guidance before and throughout this process have helped me immeasurably. I am so fortunate to have this incredible man as a teacher and friend.

Very few people know how much Vice President Fred Singer does here. Not only is he willing to take on tasks that no one else would; he was always there for me to hear what was on my mind, help me process my thoughts, and put them in historic perspective to make good decisions. Fred is one of the kindest, most generous people I have ever met. Fred, you are a gift to me – and to our community— that keeps on giving.

Peter Gurman led 3 rabbinic searches for this community methodically, brilliantly, and effectively. His quiet, principle-centered leadership was critical to the formation of Torat El and to the hiring of Rabbi Schonbrun. Peter, you do not stand on ceremony, but you, too, deserve a ton of credit for what's gone on here.

Six months into her presidency at Temple Beth El, Maddy Cohen was informed that her synagogue was going to undergo some dramatic (and traumatic) changes, and was asked to curtail her presidency. True to her own greatness, Maddy not only allowed me the privilege of becoming Torat El's first president, but also worked to the end of her energy to support the effort. I am nothing less than delighted that Maddy will continue to serve CTE.

Andy Robins worked very hard to forge a bond of trust and respect with and among everyone around him and has emerged as a great leader, confidante, and adviser. His work behind the scenes and under the radar was among the most constructive help CTE has had. You'll be seeing and hearing a lot from Andy in his ongoing roles at CTE, which will be very, very good for our community.

Warren B. Goode, our long-time Board member has been a quiet voice of reason and a wonderful advocate. Warren, on behalf of CTE and of myself personally I cannot thank you enough.

Mike Friedman and Gary Zimmerman are nothing less than awesome. These two great gentlemen strengthened, and continue to strengthen our congregation. Their business and negotiating skills have helped us in ways most of us will never see. We may not have agreed on every issue, but we did come to consensus, we trusted each other, and the result was great.

Steve Fineberg, our treasurer, has finally gotten our budget under control. The amount of hours he has put in can neither be counted nor properly compensated. As we grow and flourish, I hope Steve takes great delight in his work!

Neil Weitzenkorn and our Ritual Committee have deftly guided two slightly different sets of ritual practice into one. If you have any doubt about how much Neil has done, please ask for copies of the minutes of his committee. Neil put his personal agenda aside for a greater purpose. He is one of our best!

My colleagues on the Steering Committee, sometimes venerated, sometimes misunderstood, but always focused on doing the right thing, gave and sacrificed a lot to get us to our starting point. Mistakes were made along the way. Some things were misspoken; others misunderstood. Always, however, did these wonderful people devote themselves to securing our congregation. Though the process was imperfect, the result is great and getting better every day.

It has been a joy, and honor, and a privilege to work with the great men and women of the Executive Board and the Board of Trustees. We have weathered the storm and are well on our way to success. This community owes all of you an ongoing yasher koach!

There is nothing I can say about Pam Cardullo that has not already been said. No one I have encountered in my adult life has worked as many hours with as much intensity, through personal and professional stress, for the good of her organization. My understatement of the year is that we are fortunate to have her, Joanne Bass, and Vickie Amron on our team.

I thank all of you for allowing me to be CTE's first President. Aside from being a husband and a father, this role has been among the greatest privileges I have been given. And please give my friend, Gary Zimmerman, your trust and support. He's going to be a great President!

Lastly, and most importantly, to my wonderful wife, Fran and my outstanding children, Neil and Tracey, thank you for picking up the slack at home while I was out at meeting after meeting, year after year. Your contribution to CTE cannot be overstated. Your support when I needed it so badly was always there. You calmed me at times of indescribable stress; you made me laugh hysterically when things didn't seem so funny, and you helped me stay focused on the things that are truly important when minutia posed a distraction.

To all of you who were mentioned in this column, to all I may have forgotten, and to the entire CTE community- Todah Rab-bah. Thank you for an unforgettable run!

Alan

And, Fran—in place of those meetings I went to, we have a standing dinner date the first Tuesday night of each month!

Mazel tov to all of our graduates and their families

HAVE A TERRIFIC SUMMER!

Yasher Koach to our Bat Mitzvah!

My Mitzvah Project

Hi! My name is Samantha Estin and my Bat Mitzvah is June 4, 2011. I am in 7th grade at the Ocean Twp. Intermediate School and live in Wayside with my parents and younger brother, Josh. When I am not in school or Hebrew School, I enjoy doing competitive gymnastics, playing the clarinet and hanging out with my friends.

Over the past few years, I have participated in several community service projects. I grew my hair for "Locks of Love" and donated 10 inches to make wigs for those suffering from cancer. Through Jewish Family and Children's Services, I "adopted a grandmother" named Adele who is a holocaust survivor living in Marlboro. I visit Adele and speak with her often. We play cards, bake together, and talk about her experiences during the war. Adele has become part of our family and recently came to share a most memorable Passover seder at our home. Adele has certainly enriched our lives more than we hers.

My cousin, Elana, recently spent a month volunteering in an orphanage in Rwanda as part of her Hadassah Year Course in Israel. When we heard about the great needs of these teens at Agahozo Shalom Youth Village, my mom and I organized a bowl-a-thon that raised over $3200 for school supplies, clothing, and sports equipment for these victims of the Rwandan genocide. We had over 70 bowlers participate. Thank you to so many of you for your time and generosity. In lieu of flowers on the bima at my Bat Mitzvah, there will be wrapped boxes that contain items we are sending to ASYV.

My family and I welcome the entire congregation to come and share in the service and Kiddush luncheon on the day

CTE MEN'S CLUB presents JEWISH HERITAGE NIGHT at the LAKEWOOD BLUE CLAWS

Wednesday, June 15, 2011

Join us on June 15th to watch a great game of baseball in Lakewood and watch our Blue Claws take on the Hagerstown Suns. As an added bonus, the first 2000 fans entering the game get a Free Blue Claws hat courtesy of Home Depot.

Gates open at 6PM. If you would like to be in the parade, there is a check in at the Great Lawn to the right of the flagpoles at 5:40 PM. Then we can march on the field before the game.

Reserve Seating Tickets are $9.00 for adults and $7.00 for children between 5 and 12 years old and adults who are 60 and older.

If you are interested in attending the game, please do not hesitate to send an e-mail to rob.einhorn@gmail.com. We have 25 tickets available, but may be able to secure more!

CTE Sisterhood Chai Lites

Temple Grams: To send a gram ($5 each, checks payable to CTE Sisterhood) call Beverle at 732-493-1595.

Gift shop: Remember to support your SH Gift shop! Shop at your convenience. If you need help and no one is around, the office staff will gladly help you. If you don't see something you need and would like to place an order, please call Hagit Morgan at 732-300-2571.

Catered Luncheon: Having a special event? Let SH cater your luncheon through "Lox Stock and Deli." For more information and details, please call Diane Resnick at 732-531-3802.

Adie Gordon Religious School Fund and the Naomi Axelrod Garden Fund: Sisterhood has established these special funds, both operating on a continuing basis. To make a donation in honor of, or in memory of, etc., please call Joan Edelsberg at 732-918-0488.

College Packages: Would you like your college student to receive holiday college packages from Sisterhood for the 2010-2011 school year? Please send your student's name & address to Jackie Rosenheck by e-mail to: therosenhecks@msn.com
