Lessons Of A Hamantaschen

We can learn a lot from a Hamantaschen. I'm serious— mostly (it is almost Purim after all).

You see, when I was younger I used to love to make Hamantaschen. It was always a fun challenge to see if I could make my "Hamantaschen" just right, so that each one held its shape and did not open too much. As all serious Hamantaschen-makers know, there is an art to this technique. Once you put the filling of your choosing into a circle of dough, you must pinch the dough in such a way as to ensure that the cookie retains its triangular shape, while simultaneously working to make sure that the filling does not spill out all over the place. This is no easy task. You have to pinch your Hamantaschen just right to get the desired results. Over the years I found that the best way to get the perfect cookie is to pinch the dough in such a way that the filling is almost entirely covered before the Hamantaschen is baked. The cookies tend to open a bit in the heat and covering the filling up ensures that they open very little, if at all. The problem with this method, however, is that if you cover up the filling too much, you end up with a pretty "doughy" cookie and you cannot easily see what flavor is inside the Hamantaschen.

The practice of baking the perfect Hamantaschen offers us a lesson for the way in which we should live our lives. When it comes to our relationships with others, many of us take the safest route possible. We spend a lot of time trying to "cover up" our insides and are careful of just how much we let spill out. We protect our soft insides with this strategy. Protecting our inner-selves is necessary, to a degree, in order to function in this world. Like a Hamantaschen, being somewhat closed is not always such a bad thing. If we are too exposed, our insides can spill out, burn, and lose their flavor.

The problem, of course, is that if we cover ourselves up too much then no one can get to know the real beauty of our filling. No one can see our true flavor if our insides are completely closed off. Others are kept out by a wall of dry, crumbly, dough.

So while it's natural to protect our insides, we have to make sure that we are not closing ourselves up so much that we are not letting our true selves shine through. Living that way simply makes for a life filled with "crummy" relationships.

For more on Hamantaschen please join our Sisterhood on Sunday February 26th at 8:00am in our newly renovated kitchen for Hamantaschen baking!

To join in our festive and joyous Purim celebration, please join us for the following activities. These events are open to the community. Please see our website for more information and please bring a friend!

Yasher Koach to our Bar Mitzvah!

My Mitzvah Project by Sam Hanna

In becoming a Bar Mitzvah I took on various projects to aid several different organizations. Months ago, I participated in Clean Ocean to clean up and beautify my community. I spent a day with other community members cleaning areas of the town that are normally ignored. I cleaned near the train tracks and while my little contribution made a small difference I realized that if everyone picked up just one or two pieces of garbage our town would be far cleaner over time. Another project that I worked on was through the Humane Society. I brought blankets and towels there for the animals to stay warm. I want to be a veterinarian one day so this allowed me to give back while experiencing first hand the needs of our community animals. Finally, I collected sports equipment for kids who participate in a number of programs sponsored by Jewish Adoption and Foster Care Options in South Florida. This organization provides services and programs for at-risk children and their families. I chose this program because I play several sports and am lucky enough to have new equipment for those sports when I need it. Others are not as fortunate as I am and I wanted children who wanted to play a sport to have the same chance I do. I will continue to participate in these programs even after becoming a Bar Mitzvah.

From the Ritual Committee

We would like to recognize a group of people who have been making phone calls and reminding our congregants of our minyan schedule. These people have spent time calling those of us who have a yahrzeit, to remind us of this time of remembering our loved ones by attending minyan. They have also been calling to remind us to attend minyan, so that we can have the requisite number of people in attendance for those who need to say kaddish. These individuals are Lynne Kraft, Shelley Kaplan, Art Tauber, Be Yeamans, Sheila Morris, Pam Steinberg, Anne Siegel, Candy Friedman, Jeanne Perkins, Carol Hunter, Ruth Eder, and Marcia Sacks. When they call thank them for their dedication and efforts and remember to attend minyan.

Additionally, we would like to thank Anne Siegel, Steve Segerman and Seth Hertz who have spent time and effort in organizing the area behind the Bimah in the main Sanctuary. We have space back there for storing our extra Torot, Torah Covers, Shiva minyan books, and Torah Silver ornaments.

Without the help of our congregants we would not be able to accomplish all that we have done or are planning to do. If you would like to help, or know of a project that we should pursue, please feel free to contact me via phone or email.

CONGREGATION TORAT EL LIBRARY ACQUIRES 2012 WINNERS OF SYDNEY TAYLOR BOOK AWARDS

Best Books of the Year for Kids—Teens Are Landing on Oakhurst Shelves Now

OAKHURST NJ (Feb.13, 2011) -- The Sydney Taylor Book Awards for 2012 have been announced by the Association of Jewish Libraries, and local Congregation Torat El Librarian Anne Siegel has acquired these “best of the best” books of the past year for children of all ages.

Ms. Siegel oversees what is likely “the most active Jewish library in this neighborhood” and has been able to purchase the books thanks to the generosity of those who donated during the Congregation Torat El’s annual fundraiser for children’s materials this past Jewish Book Month.

“It has always been my practice to order these because the Sydney Taylor winners are ‘the cream of the crop,’ making selection easy,” Ms. Siegel reports.

The Sydney Taylor Book Award honors new books for children and teens that exemplify the highest literary standards while authentically portraying the Jewish experience. The award memorializes Sydney Taylor, author of the classic All-of-a-Kind Family series. The winners will receive their awards at the Association of Jewish Libraries convention in Pasadena, California this June.

Michael J. Rosen and Robert Sabuda, author and artist of Chanukah Lights; Susan Goldman Rubin, author of Music Was It: Young Leonard Bernstein; and Robert Sharenow, author of The Berlin Boxing Club are the 2012 winners. The announcement took place at the mid-winter meeting of the School, Synagogue and Community Center Division of the Association of Jewish Libraries.

Rosen and Sabuda will receive the 2012 gold medal in the Sydney Taylor Book Award’s Younger Readers Category for Chanukah Lights, published by Candlewick Press. This exquisite book celebrates Jewish history by pairing poetic prose with intricate paper cut pop-up art.

The gold medal in the Older Readers Category will be presented to Susan Goldman Rubin for Music Was It: Young Leonard Bernstein, published by Charlesbridge Publishing. This biography shares the inspiring story of the young musician and his commitment to succeed in spite of his family’s opposition. Through hard work, determination and a spirit that won’t quit, Bernstein’s dream is realized as he takes the stage as a conductor at Carnegie Hall. In 2000, Goldman Rubin received the Sydney Taylor Honor Award for Fireflies in the Dark: The Story of Friedl Dicker-Brandeis. Her book, The Cat with the Yellow Star: Coming of Age in Terezin, was a 2006 Sydney Taylor Honor Book.

Robert Sharenow will receive the 2012 gold medal in the Sydney Taylor Book Award’s Teen Readers Category for The Berlin Boxing Club, published by HarperTeen. This historical novel reveals the history of Nazi Germany through the eyes of Karl Stern, a typical 14-year-old German boy. Karl never gave much thought to being Jewish and had little connection with any religious life. When classmates bully Karl, he is forced to face the dangers in his own community. Given the opportunity to learn boxing from German champion Max Schmeling, Karl jumps at the chance. He grows strong and learns to defend himself. But as the Nazi’s gain power and his family is in peril, Karl questions who he can trust.

Eight Sydney Taylor Honor Books were named for 2012. Naamah and the Ark at Night by Susan Campbell Bartoletti with illustrations by Holly Meade (Candlewick Press) and Around the World in One Shabbat written and illustrated by Durga Yael Bernhard (Jewish Lights Publishing) are recognized in the Younger Readers Category. Sydney Taylor Honor Books for Older Readers include: Lily Renee, Escape Artist: from Holocaust Survivor to Comic Book Pioneer by Trina Robbins with illustrations by Anne Timmons and Mo Oh (Graphic Universe, an imprint of Lerner Publishing Group, Inc.), Hammerin’ Hank Greenberg: Baseball Pioneer by Shelley Sommer (Calkins Creek, an imprint Boyds Mills Press), and Irena’s Jars of Secrets by Marcia Vaughan with illustrations by Ron Mazellan (Lee & Low Books). For teen readers, the Honor Books are Then by Morris Gleitzman (Henry Holt and Company) and The Blood Lie by Shirley Reva Vernick (Cinco Puntos Press).

The Congregation Torat El Library is open M-Th from 9 am -- 5 pm; Fri 9 am – 2 pm and Sundays 9 to 10:30 am . It is located at 301 Monmouth Road, Oakhurst 07755. For information call 732-531-4410.

Siyyum Bechorim

Calling All First Born (Men and Women)

Thursday, April 5th at 8:00am

According to Jewish tradition, the first born son of a mother or father is required to fast on the day before Passover as an expression of thanks for the deliverance of the first born Israelites who were spared from the Tenth plague. One midrash teaches that both women and men were affected by this plague, and the Shulchan Arukh offers an opinion that women who are first born should fast as well. It is in that spirit that we also encourage first born females to join us for our siyyum festivities. However, individuals who are obligated to fast are exempt from fasting if they have the opportunity to participate in a seudat mitzvah, a festive meal that follows the performance of certain mitzvot. Therefore, it has become customary for synagogues, on the day before Passover, to make a siyyum, a public completion unit of study, which is followed by a seudat mitzvah, thus exempting the first born participants from their obligation to fast. The siyyum will be preceded by the morning minyan and followed by a feast with lots of delicious chametz. Study and feast is held in memory of Esther and Ed Deitelbaum and is sponsored by their family. All are welcome to join us, even if you are not a first born.

Sale of Chametz

During the week of Pesach, it is forbidden for any Jew to own chametz. To avoid the unnecessary financial hardship that could result from requiring Jews to dispose of all items that are chametz, it is tradition to sell items of chametz to non-Jews for the week of Pesach. If you would like to sell your chametz to insure that you abide by the Jewish law of not owning any chametz during the week of Pesach, please fill out the form below and return it to the Temple on or before the end of the day on Wednesday, April 4th.

Dear Rabbi Schonbrun,

I/we _____ (name) would like to appoint you as my/our agent to sell all items of chametz that will be in my/our possession at: _____.

This sale will be effective at 10:30am on Friday, April 6th.

Signed

PASSOVER RECIPE

Passover Lemon Cheesecake

Ingredients:

Crust

3/4 cup blanched almonds, toasted/cooled
2/3 cup sugar
2/3 cup matzo cake meal
1/4 teaspoon salt
8 tablespoons unsalted butter, melted/cooled

Filling

24 oz. cream cheese, softened
3/4 cup sugar
3 large eggs
2 teaspoons grated lemon zest
1 teaspoon vanilla extract

Preparation:

Preheat oven to 350 with rack in the middle. Pulse almonds, sugar, cake meal and salt in a food processor until finely ground. Transfer to a bowl and stir in butter until combined well. Press onto bottom and 1" up side of a 9" springform pan. Bake until crust is firm and golden, 12-15 minutes. Cool crust.

Reduce oven to 300. Beat cream cheese and sugar with electric mixer at medium speed until smooth. Reduce to low and add eggs 1 at a time until incorporated. Mix in zest and vanilla.

Put pan in a shallow baking pan and pour filling into crust. Bake until filling is set, 45-50 minutes.

Place springform pan onto wire cooling rack and immediately run a knife around edge to remove sides of pan. Cool completely, 2-3 hours.
