Can you believe they ran out of lox?!

When I think back to it, my Jewish identity has always been connected with food in some way. I can remember back to my first USY event. I was invited by my youth director to come to a local pizza restaurant to meet some new friends. Little did I know that after I enjoyed my pizza, I would be asked to become more involved in USY, eventually taking on leadership roles on a local and national level. Why did I show up? Because of the pizza of course! A few years later I found myself occasionally attending Sunday morning minyan at synagogue. Why did I attend? Because of the service, and because of the bagels and herring that followed! On Shabbat, it was even better because I was convinced that my shul had the best lemon cake and chocolate chip cookies of any synagogue on the West Coast! Flash forward to my years at Washington University in St. Louis. I was volunteering as a student leader at Hillel in charge of the Conservative Egalitarian minyan. We were trying to figure out how we were going to get college students (many of whom had been out partying on Friday nights) to attend services on Saturday morning. "We just need to feed them!" I said. "College students are always hungry." And sure enough, once we started introducing the Deli, the students came for Shabbat services. When I lived in Israel for my Junior year of college, my friends and I would often decide on which Shabbat service to attend based on two things -- the timing of the service, and how good the food was going to be at the kiddush afterwards! And the year that I returned back to finish college back in St. Louis, I would often attend a modern Orthodox synagogue on Shabbat mornings, because (you guessed it), college students were always invited into people's homes for delicious kiddush lunches cooked by warm and loving members of the congregations who liked to care for college students and welcomed us into their homes.

There is a certain degree of truth in the Jewish joke that all holidays can really be summarized by saying: "They tried to kill us, we won, now let's eat!" And as many Jewish professionals and active lay members will tell you, when it comes to engagement in Jewish life -- "If you feed them, they will come!" Have you ever attended a Jewish event without food (other than Yom Kippur!), and if so, did you come back?!

I share all of this with you because over the past few years, Congregation Torat El has built a Shabbat morning community that is centered around prayer, study, community, and yes -- food. Nearly every week, we join together for a Shabbat Oneg, or Shabbat lunch, as we strive to live out our identity as a community building relationships. We understand the importance of breaking bread together. What a beautiful sight it is each week, to see old and new friends sitting together, to see multiple generations sharing a table together and enjoying one another's company -- sharing reflections from the service, the sermon, or simply talking about the past week. We have people joining us who have been in services all morning. We have kids joining us who have been in Shabbat school. We have parents joining us who are picking up their children from Shabbat school and have decided to stay for a bit of Shabbat lunch. We have kids who had to leave Shabbat school for a soccer game, but wanted to come back to have lunch with their synagogue family! My friends, we are onto something wonderful here. We are creating sacred community here. We are continuing our legacy as a family of families as we celebrate and eat together.

But we are in danger of losing our ability to sustain this wonderful Shabbat lunch program because our Kiddush fund needs more financial support.

As anyone who has ever experienced a meal at Torat El knows, breaking bread together strengthens our bonds with one another; it strengthens our sense of friendship, of community, and of responsibility towards one another. This is not just a request to help fund a nice activity. It is a request to help fund something that is essential to our existence as a community building relationships with God, Torah, and each another.

So what can you do to help?

- 1. Consider sponsoring a Kiddush lunch. Sponsoring a lunch is a wonderful way to honor an anniversary, a special birthday, special occasion, to commemorate a yahrtzeit (anniversary of a death) of a loved one, or for any other reason. If you would like to sponsor a Kiddush lunch, please contact Pam Cardullo, our Executive Director.
- 2. Consider making a donation to our Kiddush Fund. A contribution of any amount is always welcome and helps underwrite the cost of this program, particularly on the weeks when we have no sponsor.

In the book of Deuteronomy 8:10, we read v'achaltah, v'savaa'tah, u'verachtah, after the Israelites had eaten and were satisfied, they were reminded to give thanks to God for all of the blessing (in that context, the "land) which God had given them. So too, should we, who are so blessed with such a deep sense of friendship, family, and community, remember to show our appreciation for this sacred gift in our lives. So too should we, who have eaten and been satisfied, remember to bring that satisfaction to others. Please consider doing your part and joining us in the sacred work of creating a community building relationships -- one bagel at a time!

2015-2016 RABBI SCHONBRUN'S COURSE OFFERINGS

Study Through Story

Eli Wiesel once wrote that "God created man because He loves stories." In Judaism it seems that there is a story for every occasion in life. From secular stories, to religious stories, cultural stories to national stories, or even stories that we have adapted from other traditions - the power of Jewish storytelling speaks to our heart and soul in a uniquely profound way. Come and join Rabbi Schonbrun as he shares some of his favorite Jewish stories and we explore their lessons and practical applications together. As we approach the Festival Of Passover we will also look at the way in which storytelling can play a central role in our Seder experience. No previous knowledge required. Bring a friend, and perhaps a story or two! RSVP to the temple office if you will be attending.

FROM THE DESK OF LAWRENCE SHAPIRO

As you may know, in February and March the lay leadership of Congregation Torat El begins its yearly budget process. Our Treasurer, Executive Director, office staff, Finance Committee and Executive Board analyze our revenues and expenses and create a budget for presentation to, and approval by, the full Board. After Board approval, the budget is presented to the Congregation at our annual meeting in June.

In an effort to make the budget as accurate as possible, over the last year or two we have been basing our budget on a 0 starting point, instead of simply plugging in numbers or estimates from the previous year.

On the expense side, we have continued to maintain, if not reduce, expenditures to the lowest level possible while still maintaining and operating a congregation to serve the needs of our members and greater community.

On the revenue side, our sustainability/commitment model has been a success. In order to continue that success and ensure we do not have to revert back to a dues-based synagogue, we need your continued generous support and your response to the commitment letter you will be receiving in the mail soon. Please be sure to fill in your commitment pledge and return it before April 1st. If you do not return a completed pledge form, we will presume that your commitment remains unchanged from last year.

As we go into our second year of the sustainability model, your response and commitment are critical to our ability to create a realistic budget, plan activities and programs, address staffing needs, and make needed repairs and upgrades in our facilities for the coming year. Please take a few minutes to give your feedback and support.

Thank you.

Larry

P.S. If you have any questions or concerns regarding CTE's budget or budget process do not hesitate to contact me or our Executive Director Pam Cardullo.

Yasher Koach to our Bat Mitzvah

My name is Matisse Rediker and I will become a Bat Mitzvah on March 12th. I attend Memorial Middle School in Eatontown. I love to sing and perform on stage.

For my mitzvah project I chose to work with a charity called Bags of Books. They collect new or gently used books and give them to families with kids that are still in school who can't afford books. At one of the hand out events the kids will be able to get a bag filled with books of their choice and keep them as their own. The reason I chose this project is because I love to read. Not everyone is as lucky as me and can have a book to just pull off their bookcase. This way I can give this gift to other kids. So far, we have collected around 400 books!

HAZAK HAPPENINGS

Sunday, March 6th - 3:00pm

The Jewish Cardinal tells the amazing true story of Jean-Marie Lustiger, the son of Polish-Jewish immigrants, who maintained his cultural identity as a Jew even after converting to Catholicism at a young age, and later joining the priesthood. Quickly rising within the ranks of the Church, Lustiger was appointed Archbishop of Paris by Pope Jean Paul II - and found a new platform to celebrate his dual identity as a Catholic Jew, earning him both friends and enemies from either group. When Carmelite nuns settle down to build a convent within the cursed walls of Auschwitz, Lustiger finds himself a mediator between the two communities - and may be forced at last to choose his side.

Please RSVP to the temple office if you plan to attend.

Joseph Levy is a native of Cairo, Egypt. His family came to the United States in January 1958, when he was a six-month-old baby, in what he calls the Yetziat Mitzrayim Shayni, the second Jewish exodus from Egypt. He grew up in Deal, New Jersey, and was Bar Mitzvahed at the old Temple Beth El in 1970, when it was still in Asbury Park. He received his higher education in New York City, attaining a law degree from Brooklyn Law School in 1984.

Over the past thirty-six years, Mr. Levy has had a passionate interest in the subject of Jews from Arab countries. He considers them the forgotten people of the longstanding Arab-Israeli dispute. He wrote an article about them for his college newspaper in 1980, and had a letter about them printed in Time magazine in 1988. Over the past several years, he has spoken in more than seventy-five locations in New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts about this subject. He has spoken to Jews of many different backgrounds, having spoken in synagogues, temples, JCC's, Jewish retirement villages and at a college Hillel.

Mr. Levy's presentation will be a two-part presentation. The first part will take a general look at Jewish history in the Arab countries, and the second part will focus on 20th century Jewish life in Egypt, the country of his birth. Mr. Levy will be more than happy to entertain questions at the conclusion of his presentation.

This fascinating program, made possible by Men's Club, is open to all members and guests at no charge. For planning purposes kindly RSVP to the temple office by March 2nd.

Good Luck!!

A program called 'Support the Girls' is raising awareness of a need to provide 'gently' used bras and new feminine hygiene products to homeless women or women in shelters. Bras are critical for women's health, comfort, self-esteem, and employment, among other reasons. Feminine hygiene products are expensive and necessary. And this isn't just a one-time issue: every month, women need various feminine hygiene products to cope with health and cleanliness issues. The Sisterhood will be providing a discreet drop-off in the office for your 'gently used' or new bras and feminine hygiene products.

Sisterhood will distribute the donations to local shelters. For more information about our program, please contact either Toby at tasukinik43@gmail.com or Susan at suesfer@aol.com.

Sale of Chametz

During the week of Pesach, it is forbidden for any Jew to own chametz. To avoid the unnecessary financial hardship that could result from requiring Jews to dispose of all items that are chametz, it is tradition to sell items of chametz to non-Jews for the week of Pesach. If you would like to sell your chametz to ensure that you abide by the Jewish law of not owning any chametz during the week of Pesach, please fill out the form below and return it to the Temple on or before end of day Wednesday, April 20, 2015.

Siyyum Bechorim Calling All First Born (Men and Women) Friday, April 22nd at 8:00am

According to Jewish tradition, the first born son of a mother or father is required to fast on the day before Passover as an expression of thanks for the deliverance of the first born Israelites who were spared from the Tenth plague. However, individuals who are obligated to fast are exempt from fasting if they have the opportunity to participate in a seudat mitzvah, a festive meal that follows the performance of certain mitzvoth. Therefore, it has become customary for synagogues, on the day before Passover, to make a siyyum, a public completion unit of study, which is followed by a seudat mitzvah, thus exempting the first born participants from their obligation to fast. The siyyum will be preceded by the morning minyan and followed by a feast with lots of delicious chametz. Study and feast are held in memory of Esther and Ed Deitelbaum and are sponsored by their family. All are welcome to join us even if you are not a first born.
