Celebrate Shavuot!

Rejoice in God's gift of love to us.

Shavuot is "the season of giving of the Torah". We do not speak of Shavuot as the holiday on which we rejoice in the receiving of the Torah, but rather as the holiday on which we rejoice in the giving of the Torah. Although God gave us the Torah at Mount Sinai at a specific time and place in history, we receive the Torah each and every time we study its words and contemplate its meaning. When we study Torah we learn about ourselves, our relationship to one another, our relationship to our world and our relationship to God. The words of Torah have stood the test of time and continue to be as relevant to our lives as they were to each generation that has preceded us.

Erev Shavuot Service and Study Session

From The Rabbis' Study...

"Bringing Our First Fruits"

"Did anyone order the fruit basket? I need to take it to synagogue with me tomorrow. How can I go to Shavuot services empty handed? I'll be embarrassed!" -- The above is a scenario that I wait to hear some day. It is inspired by what is at the core of the festival of Shavuot. Our ancestors made the pilgrimage to Jerusalem, climbed the steep hill leading up to the city, then up the southern steps of the Temple Mount, finally coming into the outer courtyard of the Temple. In a very long line, they waited their turn to present the best of the first Spring harvest: fruits, barley, winter wheat, firstlings from the flocks. As they approached one of a long row of Kohanim, they handed over their offerings and said,

"My ancestor was a wandering Aramean. He went down to Egypt with meager numbers and sojourned there; but there he became a great and populous nation. The Egyptians dealt harshly with us and oppressed us...The Lord freed us from Egypt with a mighty hand and outstretched arm...by signs and wonders. He brought us to this place and gave us this land...Wherefore I now bring the first fruits of the soil which You O Lord have given me."

This declaration is exactly the words of the Torah (Deuteronomy Chapter 26) and each pilgrim said these same words. If the passage sounds familiar, that is because we read the same words at our Pesach Seder seven weeks earlier.

With the destruction of the Temple in 70CE by Rome, we stopped bringing bikkurim (first-fruits) to Jerusalem. We substituted prayer as our offering, but Shavuot remained a time of great celebration. The practice of setting aside bikkurim was renewed with the resettling of the Land by Jewish pioneers in late 19th and early 20th Centuries.

We too can be a part of a renewed practice of bringing bikkurim. We can bring first-fruits in the symbolic way of non-perishable food for those in need and as cash donations sent to the Food Bank of Jewish Family and Children's Service, The Haiti Relief Fund (c/o United Synagogue of Conservative Judaism) or Mazon. Finally, we can come to services prepared to offer God our heartfelt thanks for enjoying enough resources to meet our needs. This offering comes in the form of prayer, both printed in the Siddur and issuing from the heart.

I look forward to giving thanks with you and to celebrating our blessings and good fortune. Look in the Bulletin for the exact schedule of services for Shavuot, including Yizkor.

Chag Bikkurim Sameach,

Rabbi Michael Goldstein

A Gift To The Community

Yom Hashoah, the day that has been designated to recall the horrors of the Holocaust, is a day on our Jewish calendar that I believe should be as sacred as any of the other sacred days that we observe throughout the year. Five years ago after a poorly attended Yom Hashoah observance at the JCC, I made it a priority to create a community wide observance that included representation from each of our Jewish communal organizations and as many of our local synagogue communities as possible. It was my vision that this observance would attract members of our community of all ages, that we would make a concerted effort to honor Holocaust survivors living in our community, and that the clergy of the community would be actively engaged in both the planning and execution of the program.

On Sunday, April 11 we conducted the 4th annual Monmouth County Jewish Community Observance of Yom HaShoah at the Ruth Hyman Jewish Community Center. The following synagogues and Jewish communal organizations were the proud sponsors of this event: Congregation Beth Shalom - Red Bank, Congregation B'nai Israel - Rumson, Congregation Brothers of Israel - Elberon, Congregation Kol Am - Freehold, Congregation Torat El - Ocean, Congregation Ohav Shalom - Marlboro, Freehold Jewish Center - Freehold, Temple Beth Miriam - Elberon, Cub Scout Pack 613, The Holocaust, Genocide & Human Rights Education Center of Brookdale Community College, The Jewish Community Center of Greater Monmouth County, The Jewish Community Center of Western Monmouth County, The Jewish Community of Seabrook Village, The Jewish Family and Children's Service of Greater Monmouth County, The Jewish Federation of Monmouth County, Jewish Heritage Museum of Monmouth County, JWV Post 125 Asbury Park/Ocean.

The following members of our community's clergy and Jewish organization leadership participated in the program: Rabbi Nisanayl Braun, Dale Daniels, Rabbi Andrew Bloom, Laura Krantz, Bob St. Lifer, Stephen Levy, Rabbi Michael Goldstein, Rabbi Ken Greene, Rabbi Yerachmiel Shapiro, Rabbi Sally Priesand, Rabbi Cy Stanway, Rabbi Brooks Susman, Rabbi Symcha Zylberberg, Cantor Marla Barugel, and The Rumson B'nai Israel Choir.

It is with thanks to the following people that our Yom HaShoah observance was a meaningful experience for all who attended:

Dale Daniels and the staff of the Holocaust, Genocide and Human Rights Education Center of Brookdale College brought us Susan Stein and introduced her performance of Etty. They also provided the data base so that we could reach out to all of our community's survivors, selected those to be honored with the lighting of the candles, helped to sign in our honored survivors and greeted everyone who attended.

Joanne Glassoff and the staff of the JCC coordinated all of the sound, lighting, technical and other details that insured a smooth flow of the event, provided publicity and graciously hosted the event.

Rabbi Andrew Bloom and Ross Bernstein, a senior in the Hebrew High of Congregation B'nai Israel conceived of and created the power point presentation that illustrated country by country the numbers of Jews who were murdered in the Holocaust.

CANTOR'S NOTES

By Hazzan Marcia Lane

Zich'ronah L'vrachah

"May her memory be for a blessing." Those are the words we speak when we are talking about someone who has died. When we say it about someone we don't know, it tends to be said in the sense of "may you have good memories when you think about her." But when we speak those words about our teachers, the ones who gave us love of Torah, the words carry deeper meaning. This past month our congregation lost a great teacher, Yael Spiegel, and I lost a great friend and mentor, Cantor Deborah Togut. Gifted teachers do much more than help us read or sing. They teach us enduring truths, about Torah, about Judaism, but mostly about ourselves.

Yael Spiegel was the kind of teacher who embodied the Mishnaic proverb: "The more learning, the more peace." She loved her students, and she knew them; their strengths and weaknesses. And Morah Spiegel always judged on the side of merit — she assumed the best in every one of her students. She encouraged, supported, cajoled, convinced, joked and listened. When she asked how you were she really cared about the answer. She was generous with stories about her kibbutz childhood, and she was generous with her praise. She taught all children that they could do more than they thought they could. Her influence lives on in generations of her students. May her memory be for a blessing.

In 1995, when I wanted to learn how to chant Torah, someone said, "You should ask Deborah. She loves teaching Torah." In fact, her e-mail name was "djtora." She never charged a fee for teaching Torah. That would have been to monetize something she loved and cherished. Her accuracy and care in chanting Torah was legendary! When I said I was thinking of becoming a cantor she simply said, "You should do it." In her recommendation letter to go to cantorial school she noted that I was "... meticulous in chanting Torah, paying careful attention to each qamatz katan and shwa na/shwa nach as well as to the trop." I was thrilled!

Deborah was fluent in Hebrew and, of course, English. And in Japanese and in Spanish, French, and Italian. When we went into restaurants in Manhattan, Deborah always conversed with the waiters in their own languages. She had a delicious sense of humor. The out-going message on her answering machine always reflected the Jewish calendar. For example, before each of the three regalim, the pilgrimage festivals, her message was sung in the cantillation of the megillot, "Shir haShirim" trop. During the month of Elul her message sounded like High Holy Day nusach. The challenge for the caller was to try to chant your message in the same fashion!

I stepped into Deborah's shoes (and they were huge; she was, after all, over 6' tall!) to tutor b'nai mitzvah students for Congregation B'nai Jeshurun in NYC. When she tutored, Deborah never said "wrong" or "no." She always said, "Look again," or "Try again." She placed each child she taught, or indeed each adult, in charge of his or her own learning. Deborah had great respect for the brilliance of her teachers, but even greater respect for her students. Once I was tutoring a bar mitzvah student, and we came to an unusual trop, I wasn't quite sure how to chant it. So at that very moment I telephoned Deborah. She was cooking, but as soon as I told her the name of the parsha, she said, "Oh, yeah. In the second triennial, the third aliyah." She knew why I was calling without my even telling her, without even looking at the text. She was that good.

In later years, when she was working at B'nai Israel in Rockville, MD, we would phone each other right before the Yamim Nora'im, the High Holy Days. We would talk about the state of our preparation, any new melodies we were learning, the state of our spiritual readiness to complete what was a sacred task. She would always sign off by saying, "Daven with your heart; daven pretty for the Jews." May her memory be for a blessing.

From the Desk of...

Alan Stern, President

One of the most difficult, complex, and emotionally sensitive issues remaining in our unification is the matter of where we will be housed. We are approaching a point at which a decision will need to be made. Let me update you on how we are handling this very important part of our process and what you can do to help.

After a very spirited congregational meeting last winter, it became clear that you (rightfully) demanded a rational accounting for any decision we may make on which building would house Congregation Torat El. It also became very clear to us that we needed the help of an independent professional who could objectively evaluate our real estate situation. Our own Gary Zimmerman and Rob Farber volunteered to study the issue. After extensive research and interviewing, they asked us to hire Robert Gagliano, son of former State Senator S. Thomas Gagliano, who appraises and assesses real estate. They asked Mr. Gagliano not only to approximate the value of each building, but also to evaluate the best usage, likelihood of sale, and feasibility as a congregational home of the Monmouth Road and Roseld Avenue facilities. Gary and Rob will report on Mr. Gagliano's findings very soon, and it is likely that a decision on the facility will be made by the Board of Trustees some time in May.

I want to assure all of you that your Board of Trustees and I have one and only one agenda: the growth and well-being of our congregation. Any decision we make will be made with the same care that has defined everything that all of our unified committees have done.

With respect, fraternity, and esteem to all of you, please allow me to ask that you prepare for our decision by considering the following:

- ◆ Our unification happened because we need each other. We will have each other in whatever building serves us best
- ◆ We will become a financially secure, flourishing community in our home
- ◆ Wherever we go will be OUR home- we'll make it appealing to all of us.
- ◆ All of our sacred objects will be housed with dignity and respect in whatever building we choose
- ◆ Each building has been a House of God for generations. Either will serve us well.

My challenge to all of you is this:

When our final decision is made, please step up and tell us what we can do to make our spiritual home comfortable for you. Go into the building, look it over, and give us your best ideas. We will listen to all of your suggestions and will work with you. Torat El is YOUR congregation; your thoughts matter!

We are on the threshold of creating a spiritual home that will be a source of strength to the Jewish Community for generations. Let us walk into our home together with our elders in front of us and with our youth behind us as we mark another milestone in our history. Stay focused on the big prize, my friends; our hard work will reap huge rewards.

Fraternally,

Alan

Yasher Koach to our B'nai Mitzvah

My Mitzvah Project Emma Neuwirth

As you may know, I am becoming a Bat Mitzvah on May 8, 2010. With my new role in the Jewish culture, I am expected to carry on traditions such as helping one another, which is what my mitzvah project was all about.

I chose to volunteer at the Boy's and Girl's Club of Monmouth County to aid the children with their homework during a time called, "Homework Help." Once a week I would attend, assisting the second and third graders while my mom would help the kindergarten and first graders. After my first visit to the club, I realized that these kids came here every day, for they had no one to go home to after school. When I said good-bye to the kids, they would come up to give me hugs. I was glad to be the one to make their faces light up. It gave me pride and joy to help kids who weren't as fortunate as I am, and I was able to get a glimpse into their lives.

Although I've completed my community service, I hope to continue my volunteer work there because I feel a sense of meaning each time I volunteer. I hope my mitzvah project has started me off on the right path through my course in Jewish adulthood.

My Mitzvah Projects Alex Solomon

I am a 7th grader at Ocean Township Intermediate School. I am becoming a Bar Mitzvah on May 15, 2010, and I performed two mitzvah projects.

The first one is collecting stamps for the Jewish War Veterans (JWV) who send them to The National Stamp Distribution Program and Stamps for the Wounded. I am doing this because my grandfather, Howard Wiener, is involved in the JWV and the stamp collection. The veterans are of any religion and condition and use the stamps for collages, collecting, and various hobbies and art projects.

My other mitzvah project is for American Friends of Magen David Adom (AFMDA formerly known as ARMDI). It is the Israeli version of the Red Cross, or Red Star of David. I will be sending out a letter to Monmouth and Ocean County Hebrew Schools asking them to distribute ambulance tzedakah boxes to their students. I also hope to put AFMDA collection tins in some local businesses. As you may or may not know, my grandmother, Eva Wiener, being president of the local chapter, has helped a great deal with this part of my project.

My Mitzvah Project Francesca Reznik

I live in Wayside with my parents Beth and Ed Mislavsky and will be celebrating my Bat Mitzvah on May 15, 2010. I am in the 7th grade at the Ocean Township Intermediate School. I am part of the track and cross country teams. In my free time I enjoy theater, acting, reading and traveling with my family to cool places around the world.

Preparing for my Bat Mitzvah has been a very rewarding and educational experience. For my mitzvah project, I volunteered once a week at the Navesink House in Red Bank. The afternoons I spent with the many elderly residents was a true pleasure. I plan on continuing to volunteer there after my Bat Mitzvah.

My Mitzvah Project Alana Gross

My Bat Mitzvah will be on May 22, 2010. A year ago, when I started thinking about what my mitzvah project should entail. I decided to incorporate some of my favorite interests. These included being a conversationalist (talking with others), helping in the kitchen, and putting a smile on other people's faces.

I got involved with Peter Cooper Village in West Long Branch. I go on Sundays and work with a couple of other volunteers serving lunch. First we set the table and then I drive with one of my parents to Monmouth Medical Center to pick up the prepared food from their cafeteria. The food is given to Peter Cooper Village from MMC because it is a subsidized housing project. Once back at Peter Cooper Village the food is then checked for the proper temperature prior to being served. I then serve the food to the residents who cannot get to the cafeteria and get it ready for delivery to their apartments. I walk the meals over to the appropriate apartments. On snowy days, of which there were many this winter, all the meals would get delivered. I would then go back to the cafeteria and serve meals to the residents who are mobile. Then it was clean-up time. I helped to wash the dishes and dispose of leftovers.

It was comforting to know these adults were getting a delicious and plentiful hot meal. I enjoyed having conversations with the residents and they especially enjoyed learning about my school and extra-curricular activities.

March Mah Jongg Madness was a huge success. Sixty women picked and threw tiles until we had our winners. Congratulations to our cash prize winners: Laurie Gross, Jeanne Singer, Linda Gurman, and our grand prize winners, Roberta Korfin, Frimet Wilk and Bernice Zeldin. We would like to thank all the players who brought tables and Mah Jongg sets and helped keep score. A special thank you to our helpers for the day, Marcia Weitzenkorn, Lee Alexander, Marcia Sacks, and Gidget Friedman.

Elaine Cooper and Gayle Ardakanian, Co-chairs

Thank you once again for our two wonderful April programs.

We learned about "The Art of Beekeeping", with Mary Kosenski of E&M Gold Beekeepers in Tinton Falls. We had a lovely luncheon with foods made from chemical-free honey. Thank you again to Laurie and all her "Busy Bee" helpers!

Thank you to Andrea Fisbein for orchestrating our other April Program. Clinical Psychologists, Dr. Mindy Breyer and Dr. Brenda Occhipinti, helped us find Wellness~A Mind/Body Perspective. Thank you for providing this wonderful and enlightening evening.

Sisterhood of Temple Beth El Presents:
"I Never Knew the Knife Man's Name"

Performed by Rona Mann

May 18, 2010, 11:30 am

Monmouth Road Location

"I Never Knew the Knife Man's Name" is a one-woman program of reminiscence, humor, pathos, and unending and uplifting spirit. It has been performed all over the country from Rotary Clubs to Red Hatters to assisted living facilities, senior centers, synagogues, and churches.

Come join us for our Sisterhood Luncheon and stay with us for a trip down memory lane led by our guest speaker, Rona Mann. Rona Mann began both her writing and acting career in her native New Jersey during the 1950s. She graduated from Syracuse University's famed College of Performing Arts with two degrees, has appeared in summer stock, off-Broadway, and in professional repertory theatre, and has done numerous voiceovers for radio and television commercials.

All members of Sisterhood of Temple Beth El and Sisterhood of Temple Beth Torah are invited to this performance. All members of our temple family of Congregation Torat El are invited to join us for this special event.

Copies of the book, "I Never Knew the Knife Man's Name" will be available for sale with a signing immediately following the performance. Books will be offered at $15, a 25% discount off the national price of $20.

Please RSVP Charlotte Ginsburg at 732.577.0181 by May 12.

Hazak Sponsored Trip
Historic Tour, Jewish Heritage Museum & Lunch

Price: $89.00

Date: Tuesday, May 25, 2010

On this tour you will visit a wide range of sites. From the spectacular Bialystoker Synagogue to a simple shteibl, to Beth Hachasidim De Polen you will see where immigrants went to shul, and how a new generation is carrying on these traditions.

Lunch will be at Noah's Ark Delicatessen on the lower East Side before traveling on to the Museum at Eldridge Street, site of the first synagogue built by Eastern European Jews in America.

A very special tour of the Jewish Heritage Museum, a living memorial to the Holocaust, has been arranged. This architectural landmark contains over 2000 photos and hundreds of artifacts and documentaries.

The exhibit "Traces of Memory" will be featured with images by photographer Chris Schwarz, who traveled through Poland's countryside to document the visible traces of the Jewish past and serves as a lament to the destroyed Jewish civilization that once flourished in Poland, a record of the locations of the annihilation of the Jews, and an exploration of the commemorative efforts now taking place there.

Leaving: 9:00 am

Returning: 5:45 pm

Lunch is included

All tours include: Escort, bus, snacks and pick up at Roseld Avenue location.

Rabbi Yaffe's Column Continued From Page 5

Howard Gases and the Jewish Federation of Monmouth County created the flyer, insured the proper publicity within the community and invited the political dignitaries who joined us.

Rabbi Nesanayl Braun prepared a fitting tribute for our survivors.

Mel Woda and the JWV for presented the colors.

Cub Scout Pack 613 participated in the national anthems.

Rob Fire and the members of the Congregation B'nai Israel Choir made an invaluable contribution of Eili Eili and Al Naharot Bavel.

Amy Garland Goldman provided the soulful music of the cello that accompanied our program.

Rabbi Sally Priesand provided the candles and candelabra that were used for the candle lighting ceremony.

I designed and produced the programs as well as the personal invitations that were received by each of our community's survivors. A special thank you to Susan Diamond and Marvin Makler for assisting with the mailing.

I hope that this community wide observance of Yom Hashoah will continue to be a Monmouth County Jewish Community event as the years continue. The unique aspects of this program that I hope will be preserved are:

1. Participation of community clergy of all denominations in both the planning and the execution of the program.
2. Participation in the program of a representative from each of the sponsoring organizations.
3. Sponsorship & participation by an inclusive list of our Jewish communal organizations and as many synagogues as possible.
4. Invitations sent to our community's survivors and the honoring & blessing of the survivors in attendance.
5. The lighting of 7 candles by Holocaust Survivors. One for each million Jews and one for the righteous Gentiles.
6. Compromise by reciting Eil Malei Rachamim accompanied by the cello to avoid "Kol Isha" and maintain an egalitarian value.
7. The antiphonal recitation of the Kaddish in Aramaic and English.
8. The presentation and retiring of the colors by the JWV and the Cub Scouts.
9. The singing of the national anthems of America and Israel.
10. Concluding the program with a reading of names as people walk out in silence.
11. The inclusion & involvement of members of our youth. (For the 1st 3 years the reading of the names was done by teens.)

Two dreams that have yet to be realized:

1. Participation by leaders and members of the Syrian community.
2. An equally community based observance of Yom HaAtzma-ut.

Creating and nurturing this community event has been a labor of love. It is one of the gifts that I leave behind as I leave this community. It is my prayer that the memory of those who perished in the Holocaust will forever be a source of strength and inspiration and that the observance of Yom Hashoah in the Monmouth County Jewish Community will continue to be a significant annual event that strengthens and unifies the members of this community.

BARTLETT.

BECAUSE EVERY TREE IS A FAMILY TREE.

Today, more than ever, property value is as much about your landscape as it is your home. The trees and shrubs that grow along with you and your family are valuable assets that deserve care and protection. For over 100 years, Bartlett Tree Experts has led both the science and services that make your landscape thrive. No matter the size or scope of your needs, our arborists bring a rare mix of groundbreaking research, global resources and a local service approach to every task at hand. Trees add so much value to our lives. And Bartlett adds even more value to your trees.

For the life of your trees.
