May 2018 - Iyar/Sivan 5778

Chag Shavuot Sameach! Tikkun at Rabbi's House Saturday, May 19, 8:00pm

Exploring The Book Of Ruth

It is a tradition on Shavuot to read from the Book of Ruth. But who was Ruth? What does she come to teach us about the way we view boundaries in Judaism, about who we consider to be a part of our community and who is excluded? What does she come to teach us about how we are to approach the needy and the poor, or how we are to protect people who come to us in a time of need? What does she challenge us to consider when it comes to thinking about what our society might look like if it was built on chesed, caring and compassion? Join Rabbi Schonbrun as we explore these questions and more over some delicious cheesecake! Feel free to bring a friend. All are welcome! RSVP to the temple website, torat-el.org or call the office at 732-531-4410.

Shavuot Service - Sunday, May 20, 9:00am
Shavuot/Yizkor Service - Monday, May 21, 9:00am

Garden Fund Donations

In honor of Shavuot we are asking for donations to our Garden Fund to continue the beautiful landscaping work that has been started on the Temple grounds.

Please think of the Garden Fund when making your synagogue donations.

UNDERSTANDING REVELATION- ENGAGING A TORAH OF FEAR OR LOVE?

We are just a few weeks away from celebrating the Festival of Shavuot. Literally meaning “weeks,” the festival of Shavuot gets its name from the instruction in the Torah that we are to count “seven weeks (Shavuot)” from the beginning of the grain crop on until the end of that harvest. In Israel the spring harvest begins during the Passover season, and in the biblical period people would bring an offering of thanksgiving, as well as their new crop, to Jerusalem during this time of year to be eaten as a sign of appreciation and thanksgiving for God’s beneficence. The agricultural aspects of this holiday are commemorated today by the counting of the Omer, a biblical measurement of grain that was to represent a portion of the crop that was brought daily during the 49 days between Passover and Shavuot. By the rabbinic period, with the Temple no longer standing, Shavuot became associated with the giving of the Torah – an event that traditionally occurred during this time of year as well. From that point on, the giving and receiving of Torah became the primary focus of this pilgrimage Festival.

Ancient midrashim (rabbinic parables) abound about the moment that our ancestors stood at Mount Sinai to receive the Torah. Interestingly, there are two midrashim that stand in exact opposition to one another when it comes to the description of the revelation on Mount Sinai. The Torah describes how Moses “led the people out of the camp towards God, and they took their places be-tachteet ha-har, at the foot of the mountain (Exodus 19:17).” Noting that the literal translation of be-tachteet is “under,”

Rabbi Avdimi bar Hama bar Hasa said: the Jewish people actually stood beneath the mountain, and the verse teaches that the Holy One, Blessed be He, overturned the mountain above the Jews like a tub, and said to them: If you accept the Torah, excellent, and if not, there will be your burial. Babylonian Talmud, Shabbat 88a

This somewhat disturbing midrash imagines that God coerced the children of Israel into accepting the Torah, literally threatening them with their lives if they failed to accept this way of life.

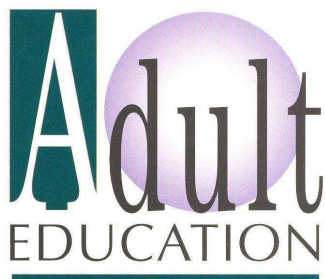

Fortunately, another midrash imagines the scene entirely differently. In Moses’s poetic rendering of the scene found towards the end of Deuteronomy we read that “The Lord came from Mount Sinai (Deut. 33:2).”

Rabbi Jose taught:.. “The Lord came from Sinai” (Deut. 33:2), to receive Israel as a bridegroom comes forth to meet the bride... Scripture indicates that the mount was pulled up from its place and the people came near and stood under it, as it is said: “And you came near and stood under the mountain (Deuteronomy 4:11).”

Here we have the idea that when the children of Israel gathered “under the mountain” of Sinai, they did so with Sinai acting more like a wedding canopy, a hupah, than a threatening mound of earth hanging over their head. Here we have the idea that revelation was a moment of sacred connection between God and the children of Israel, as they stood under the wedding canopy and entered into a marriage by signing a metaphorical wedding contract (ketubah), in the shape of the Torah/Ten Commandments.

This all brings us to the following question. How do we understand our Judaism? How do we view our tradition? Is it something that we feel “forced,” or even “guilted” into engaging with? Or is it something that we come to voluntarily – with excitement, nervousness, and a full heart, much as young lovers come together on their wedding day? Do we accept living a life of Torah out of fear, out of love, or out of some combination of the two? Understanding our motivation to engage with, or disengage with, Torah is important because it can help us be more authentic and sincere in our approach to our Judaism. So on this Shavuot, take a moment to consider your relationship to Torah as a whole. Are you Jewish out of fear? Are you Jewish out of love? And what might these various motivations come to teach you about how you can deepen your connection to a tradition that continues to reveal significant, meaningful, and sacred truths that are as old as the first revelation on Mount Sinai.

Lunch N'Learn: Journey Through The Prophets

We read the Haftarah, a selection taken from the Book of Prophets, in synagogue every week. Often these Haftorot are challenging to understand both in terms of their context and relevance to modern day life. Just who were these "prophets?" Why were they so important to Biblical Israel and why do we continue to read about them today? When did they live? What did they preach? And what messages do they have for modern day society? Come and join us for an introductory look at the Prophets in the Hebrew Bible. Bring your friends, your questions, and an openness to the wisdom of some of our earliest teachers and leaders. No previous Bible study necessary. We look forward to seeing you!

Final Lunch & Learn, May 16

From The Writings of Dr. Abraham Joshua Heschel

Rabbi, Dr., Abraham Joshua Heschel was one of the prominent Jewish figures of the 20th century. A leading rabbi, philosopher, theologian, and scholar -- Heschel's influence on the American Jewish community in general and the Conservative movement in particular cannot be overstated. Come and join us as we spend a few weeks scratching the surface of this towering Jewish figure by exploring some of Heschel's most significant thoughts and writings and their relevance today. As always, feel free to bring a friend; our classes are open to the community! If you'd like to register for this class, please RSVP to the temple office.

Thursdays, May 3, 10 at 7:30pm

YASHER KOACH TO OUR BAT MITZVAH!

Hello, my name is Lindsey Lissauer and I am looking forward to becoming a Bat Mitzvah on May 12. I am currently a 7th grader at Hatikvah International Academy Charter School in East Brunswick. I spend much of my time after school on the ice at the Jersey Shore Arena, working on my ice dancing, and at the Richard J. Codey Arena, practicing with my synchronized ice skating team, the Synchroettes. In the summer, I love to go surfing, as well!

For my Mitzvah Project, I am volunteering my time with an organization called Hope for Animals. They are a cat adoption organization based out of the PetSmart in Manalapan. This organization takes in homeless and abandoned cats and tries to rehabilitate them to place them up for adoption. Hope for Animals ensures the cats are cared for and healthy (and treated if they are sick). We take them out of their cages so they have playtime and exercise. One important role we help with is socializing the animals so they get used to being with people. This helps ensure they get to permanent homes as quickly as possible and the adoptions are successful. I started volunteering with this organization long before my Bat Mitzvah training and plan to continue for a long time to come.

I am looking forward to my big day and hope to see you there!
