Who Will Tell Your Story?

Last spring I was privileged to see the Broadway hit show Hamilton by Lin-Manuel Miranda. For those who have not seen the show or listened to the lyrics, it is an upbeat, hip-hop retrospective on the life of Alexander Hamilton and his tremendous influence on the founding of our nation. Prior to seeing the play, I did not really know that much about Hamilton. I knew that he had something to do with the national banking system in this country, and that he was shot by Aaron Burr. To say that I had little to no understanding of who Hamilton was, what he stood for, or the tremendous influence that he had on this country, is putting it nicely. Between the play, and reading the 800-page book on which it was based by Ron Chernow, I learned a tremendous amount about Hamilton's life and his influence on our democracy and way of life as Americans. Toward the end of the musical, there is a song entitled Who Lives Who Dies, Who Tells Your Story? The song captures one of the overarching take-aways from the musical asking the audience member to consider just how our life stories get told, who writes them, and what lessons they might pass on to the next generation. Hamilton is a great example as I imagine that, prior to watching the show, many people do not know very much about this Founding Father. Though he was incredibly prolific, writing, for example, 51 out of the 85 Federalist papers promoting the ratification of the Constitution, most of us hear Alexander Hamilton and simply think, "Aaron Burr."

But as Jews, we should know better, because as Jews, we are continually taught that our stories should matter and should be passed on l'dor va'dor, from generation to generation. Each week, we read the story of our people in the Torah in an attempt to learn life lessons from those who started this tradition thousands of years ago. Eli Wiesel once remarked that our very purpose for living is centered around story-telling, when he remarked that God created man because God likes stories. Unfortunately, many people simply don't make the time to write down their stories for the next generation. "My children aren't interested," they say. "Who has the time?" they think. "I don't have anything that interesting to share," they imagine. "Who writes anything down anymore anyway?" they quip. But as we come out of this High Holy Days season of reflection and renewal centered around our own Books of Life, we are challenged to ask ourselves just exactly how it is that we want to be remembered. Because if there is one thing that I learned from watching Hamilton, it is this: The way in which we are remembered depends, in large part, on the amount of material that we have shared with others, and who is left to share our story with the next generation once we are gone.

To that end: Do your children and grandchildren know what your childhood was like? Do they know who your favorite relatives were? Do they understand where your family comes from or know the classic family stories? Do they know your engagement story, what it was like when they were younger, who you first voted for, or how you got your first job? Do they know where you were when Kennedy was shot, what life was like for you during the years of MLK and LBJ, or where you were on 9/11? Do they know your favorite movie or what book most influenced you in your life? Do they know what you believe about Judaism, about God, and about the Jewish community? Do they know what you have learned from life and what is most important to you in this world? Do they know what life has taught you?

As Jews, we have the great privilege and responsibility of ensuring that those who will follow us on this earth have a sense of where they come from, in order to better understand where they are, and where they are going. But in order to do this well, we have to make the time to write down our stories. We have to take the time to share with future generations what we feel is important about our lives, and our world. Of course this is easier said than done. But that should not stop us. Fortunately, Lin-Manuel Miranda rescued Hamilton's story for the world to see. But most of us do not have someone else who will rescue our story for us. We are the only ones who can tell our stories in our own voices.

So how do we get started? To learn more about this, and begin working on sharing your story with others, please consider joining me for my upcoming class entitled "L'dor Va'dor: Sharing Our Values From Generation to Generation," beginning on Wednesday, November 16th at 7:30pm. We will explore some Jewish ethical wills that have been written throughout history and begin working on crafting our own stories as well. Please note we have postponed the class by one week. I look forward to learning with you and sharing in your story!

RABBI SCHONBRUN'S

COURSE OFFERINGS

Lunch 'n Learn - Journey Through The Torah

We read the Torah in synagogue every week, often choosing a verse or a narrative to study on Shabbat morning. But how many of you have read through the Torah carefully from cover to cover, studying each verse and each chapter of the world's longest "best seller?" Just what exactly is contained in these Five Books of Moses, and how can our most sacred text address some of the most pressing issues of our lives and of our world? To find out answers to these questions and more, come and join us once a week for a journey through the Torah. Bring your friends, your questions, and an openness to letting the words of Torah touch your heart and soul. No previous Bible study necessary. We look forward to seeing you!

Wednesdays, 12:00-1:00pm

L'dor Va' dor: Sharing Our Values From Generation to Generation

L'dor Va' dor -- for thousands of years our people have passed on our heritage and the communal story of our people "from generation to generation." Although the spoken word plays a large role in Judaism, it is the written word, the stories that are written down, and retold, that have ultimately ensured our survival.

This course will encourage us to answer the question found at the center of the national hit Broadway show Hamilton, which asks the audience to consider: "Who lives, who dies, who tells your story?"

Wednesdays, November 16, 30, December 7, 14 7:30pm

Jewish Values and the Israeli-Palestinian Conflict-Cost?

Through video lectures, text study, and lively group discussion, we are pleased to bring the world-renowned faculty of the Shalom Hartman Institute into the Torat El community.

Through the study of Jewish narratives about Israel and the unpacking of the complex meanings of peace in Jewish tradition, we will explore the ideas and values that animate different attitudes toward the conflict and how these values shape our own political understandings of the situation. Though our political opinions and suggestions concerning how to handle the Israeli-Palestinian conflict may not always be in agreement, this course strives to achieve a shared respect for our differences.

Each session includes text study and discussion led by Rabbi Schonbrun, a video lecture by Rabbi Dr. Donniel Hartman, and a video dialogue between Rabbi Hartman and other top scholars and experts. Join us for this wonderful opportunity to learn from great scholars, from our own Rabbi Schonbrun, and from one another as we engage in thinking about the Jewish values that underlie one of the most politically sensitive and difficult issues facing the Jewish people and the international community.

$20 per person/couple for study guide

In order for us to have enough study guides, please register with the office for this class by January 4th.

Wednesdays, January 18, 25, February 1, 8, 15, 22, March 1, 8, 15 - 7:30-9:15pm

You're Jewish?!? Taking a 21st Century Look at Jews and Jewish Identities

What does it mean to be a Jew in the twenty-first century? What characteristics define Judaism today? Are we a culture, ethnicity, nation, nationality, or religion? Come and join us as we explore a new book written by Dr. Aaron Hahn Tapper of the University of San Francisco entitled:

Judaisms: A Twenty-First Century Introduction to Jews and Jewish Identity.

Using a variety of themes related to Jewish identity, we will explore a diversity of voices in the Jewish community from the biblical period through today to see how our customs, practices, and beliefs impact the way in which we understand our identity as Jews today.

Wednesdays, April 26, May 3, 10, 17 - 7:30pm

FROM THE DESK OF LAWRENCE SHAPIRO

I hope you enjoyed the time spent with family and friends over the last couple of weeks, including your extended Congregation Torat El family.

If you were in our High Holy Days services, you were treated to meaningful, spiritual services, as well as wonderful presentations from three congregants spanning the spectrum in age and experience, who shared their personal stories of what Congregation Torat El means to them and why it is important to have a thriving congregation in our community. We also learned firsthand how your generosity impacts lives in ways you may have never considered.

We were also moved by the Rabbi's memorable words prior to Yizkor — words that pointed out that our actions, no matter how small, impact those around us and how we can be there for those in need, without even saying a word.

With the memory of these shared experiences fresh in our minds, I ask that you respond to our silent Yom Kippur appeal in a manner that is commensurate with what the Congregation Torat El community means to you. If you were at all moved, inspired, or comforted by what you saw, heard and felt during the High Holy Days, your support is needed to ensure that our synagogue, volunteers, programs, and Rabbi are here so we can do it again next year, and for many years to come. This is our largest fundraiser of the year and your cooperation and generosity are needed to make it -- and Congregation Torat El -- a success.

Thank you for your continued support and generosity.

Larry

Your help is so greatly appreciated!

Our second Torat El "Chai Club" Shabbat recently took place, honoring those families who have been members of our congregation for 18 years and longer. Over 200 people were in attendance at an evening filled with warmth and friendship, in celebration of their contribution to the life of our synagogue. With the dedication of the members of our "Chai Club," we can ensure that Torat El has a long life and continues to thrive for future generations.

During the evening, we learned that our synagogue has 282 member families of 18 years or more. Among them, most incredibly, 45 families have belonged for 54 years or more. Congratulations to all our "Triple Chai" congregants for their support of over half a century. There are 107 members in the 36-53 year category, also known as our "Double Chais." And finally, 130 members are in the 18-35 year range, to round out our "Chai Club."

The "Chai Club" Shabbat would not have been possible without the strong teamwork of our membership committee. They are: Laurie Gross, Steve Fineberg, Sara Turian, Jason Stern, Jean Perkins and Sheryl Kaplan. Thanks also go to Rabbi Schonbrun for always being an inspiration and to Executive Director Pam Cardullo for making sure every detail was perfect. In addition, thanks to the office staff, Joanne Bass and Lisa Arnold, and the custodial staff, Jacob Fineran and Rich Salerno.

After services, there was a delicious dessert reception in honor of the "Chai Club." They connected with those they knew and greeted those they had never met before. The new name tags added to the warmth of the evening.

Suzanne Michel, Membership Committee Chair
