FROM THE DESK OF OUR RABBINIC INTERN, WARNER FERRATIER

Our Rabbinic Intern will be writing monthly bulletin articles while Rabbi Schonbrun is on sabbatical for the next few months.

During Sukkot, we are commanded to “dwell” in the sukkah. We are supposed to make a temporary home for ourselves as a remembrance of the years the Children of Israel spent in the wilderness after being released from slavery in Egypt.

As I write this, I have just finished moving for the fourth time in six months (and the twelfth time in the last five years!). Although none of the places I have lived have been as flimsy as a sukkah, each of these places has felt temporary and transient. They have all been quite small. I feel as though I’ve spent the last six months living in a sukkah.

It’s been a valuable experience, even if it hasn’t been what I would call fun. I’ve learned a number of valuable lessons, each of which is something we’re supposed to remember during Sukkot. I’ve learned that physical possessions don’t actually matter that much. Each of the places I’ve lived in over the past several months have been very small. There simply hasn’t been the space to put much of anything. Moving from place to place has meant that it’s a real inconvenience to pack and unpack everything. Conversely, since I’ve had to make a lot of decisions about what to keep, I’m more appreciative of the things that I still have.

I think the most important lesson is that the things which really matter are easy to take from place to place. All of the people who were in my life before these moves are still there. Moving to a smaller place doesn’t mean sacrificing relationships, even if it means I can’t have quite as many people over for dinner!

All of my inner resources go with me from place to place as well. My commitment to our Tradition is not dependent on possessions. The same is true of my education, and my other life experiences.

Before my transient experience of the last several years, I might have intellectually known these truths, but the last several years have literally brought home the lesson. I’ve internalized them in ways that might not have been possible otherwise. I hope that no matter how settled I become in the future, I will always remember these lessons. I think I will always celebrate Sukkot differently as a result.

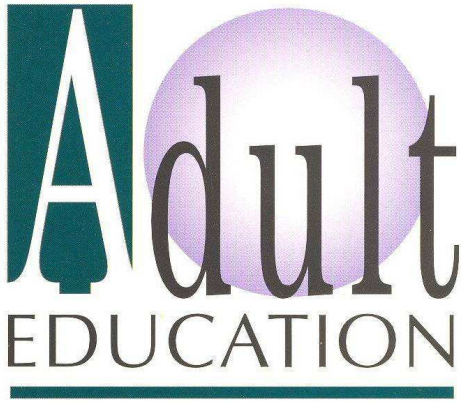

These are the lessons of which Sukkot is supposed to remind us: it is not our physical homes or our possessions which are of value; it is the people in our lives and our inner resources which carry us through our lives.

This Sukkot, whether we actually dwell in ritual booths or not, we should use the opportunity to remember those things in our lives which we can take with us no matter what our wealth or our circumstances happen to be.

Moadim l’simcha, Happy Sukkot!

Israel's Milestones and their Meanings: The Legacy of the Past and the Challenge for the Future

Another engaging video series from Hartman Institute. This class will be led by our Rabbinic Intern, Warner Ferratier.

Memory is a central element in defining modern Jewish identity. As we look to Israel's future, we need to engage anew with our past and explore its meanings and consequences. Through the consideration of major historic moments, this iEngage series grapples with the different ideas and values that shape the meaning of Modern Israel, Zionism, and Jewish identity today.

Lunch & Learn: The American Jewish Experience: An Introduction to American Jewish History

In this lecture course, Rabbi Dr. Robert E. Fierstien will discuss the origins of the American Jewish Community, from its earliest days in Colonial America down to the great wave of Jewish immigration from Eastern Europe in the late 19th and early 20th centuries. Among the topics to be discussed are Jews in the American Revolution, the Civil War, the origins of Reform, Conservative, and Orthodox Judaism, and the beginnings of American Jewish feminism. This course is a "must" for all who are interested in the history of the Jews in the United States!

Rabbi Dr. Robert E. Fierstien is Adjunct Professor of Jewish Studies at Stockton University, where he specializes in Jewish History. He is Rabbi Emeritus of Temple Beth Or in Brick, NJ. He is a summa cum laude graduate of New York University, and received his rabbinical ordination, master's and doctorate from the Jewish Theological Seminary of America. A cultural and religious historian, he has published three books and numerous articles in the field of American Jewish History, and was Chairman of the Centennial History Committee of the Rabbinical Assembly. He is currently co-chairman of the History Committee of the Jewish Heritage Museum of Monmouth County.

Do you like to knit/crochet?

S.A.C.K. (Supporting A Community with Kindness) is a 501c3 nonprofit organization founded by our temple member, Stacy Wiener, where people knit and crochet sacks and then donate them (with a bar of soap in each one) to places such as homeless shelters, food pantries, United Way, Salvation Army and veterans clinics. Check out their website (www.soapsacks.com) and Facebook page <mailto:page-@SoapSACK>. On Sunday, October 14th, Monmouth Reform Temple in Tinton Falls will be having a Mitzvah Day. As part of this event, knitters and crocheters will be making soap sacks for S.A.C.K. If you are interested (or know someone who would be interested) in taking part in this program, please call Stacy Wiener at 732-531-8151 or email her at stacy@soapsacks.com.

To make a donation, go to: MakingStridesWalk.org/PointPleasantBeach, search for the event and our team name (all lower case), look for "donate to team" and make a donation.

If you want to walk, meet early (between 8:30 and 9 AM) near the brick building next to the survivor's tent. Contact Diane Resnick at Diresnick@aol.com or 732-740-9834 so we have an idea of the number of people walking.

Alida Rubin is a certified image consultant who reawakens the inner beauty of often forgotten women in nursing homes and assisted living communities through her non-profit, "My Makeover Mission." Alida visits nursing homes giving makeovers to women. In addition, she goes to senior centers, assisted living communities and synagogues where she teaches the women techniques on how to accentuate themselves through makeup and style. Besides showcasing outer beauty, Alida also taps into their inner beauty by lifting their self esteem.

Alida will engage in a broad discussion with the Sisterhood on styling and how to use your own accessories to refresh your image with things you already own in your closet! To participate in this interactive session, women of the Torat El Sisterhood will be asked to bring in a bag of their favorite accessories and Alida will demonstrate how to create new looks with items you already own!

This program promises to be informative and enjoyable for all the members and the synagogue community. Everyone will leave with some great beauty takeaways and have gained an understanding on how easy beauty techniques can really raise a woman's spirit!

How did Master Sergeant Roddie Edmonds, under threat of death, persuade over 1,000 of his fellow Prisoners of War to defy their German captors and save the lives of 200 American Jewish soldiers?

The answer is RODDIE'S CODE. This was the code by which he lived his life, the tenets of which made every man his brother.

Join us to hear Pastor Christopher Edmonds relate the story of his heroic father's courage during World War II and its relevance today as our nation is torn by dissension and violence. Pastor Edmonds' presentation will contain film clips of the veterans who witnessed this momentous event and will highlight turning divisiveness into finding common ground to ensure a better future for our children.

MEET THE AUTHOR SERIES

CONGREGATION TORAT EL

Sunday, October 28, 2018 - 11:00am

Meet Mary Morris author of Gateway to the Moon

From award-winning novelist Mary Morris, Gateway to the Moon is a vivid novel that travels from 15th Century Spain when Jews and Muslims were forced to convert or be expelled, to 20th Century Entrada de Luna in New Mexico. There, Spanish Catholic residents light Friday night candles and do not eat pork, despite their lack of awareness of their religious heritage. What is it like to leave everything behind? What despair and fears of betrayal accompanied the Inquisition? What poverty led a young man to a wealthy family whose traditions are much like his own?

Mary Morris is a professor of creative writing and the author of The Jazz Palace, A Mother's Love, and House Arrest. She received the Rome Prize for Literature and the Anisfield-Wolf Award for Fiction.

Read the book before you come. Books on sale at the temple office for $20.

$15 per person pre-paid or $20 at the door
A light brunch will be served
Reservations at www.torat-el.org or 732-531-4410
