LIGHTING THE CANDLES OF OUR SHARED COMMUNITY

In a mountain village in Europe many years ago, there was a nobleman who was concerned about the legacy he would leave to the people of his town. He spent a great deal of time contemplating his dilemma and at last, decided to build the community a synagogue. He determined that he would not share the design plans for the building with community members until it was completed. He spent many hours and a great sum of money working with contractors and builders to create the perfect structure.

At long last, the construction was finished. The townspeople were excited and curious about what they would find upon entering their new synagogue. Early one morning, they came into the building for the first time and marveled at the synagogue's magnificence. There were rooms of every shape and size, suitable for worship services, classes, meetings, parties, gatherings, and every other conceivable function. No one could remember so beautiful a synagogue anywhere in the world!

Then, noticing a seemingly obvious flaw in the design, one of the townspeople asked, "Where are the lamps? What will provide the light?" Everyone looked around and, behold, nowhere in the entire building was a light or a lamp. The proud nobleman pointed out brackets that were strategically placed all along the walls throughout the synagogue. He then gave each family a lamp as he explained, "Whenever you come to the synagogue, I want you to bring your lamp, and light it. When we are all here together, our synagogue will be illumined. But when you are not here, the lamp will remind you that some part of our building will be dark. I have built for you the structure, but you must bring the light. You must share your light with one another so we can all be a community together." (Rabbi David Widzer)

I shared this story when I first came to this congregation, nearly 16 years ago, as both an invitation, and a reminder; an invitation to participate and bring your "light" to our community, and a reminder that a community is only as strong as those who choose to participate and make it so.

We have accomplished so much together since the founding of our congregation – from creative programs, to a more participatory ritual practice, yearly fundraisers and a capital campaign, an updated membership model, a more vibrant Shabbat community, and multiple ways to engage members and non-members both virtually and in person. We are blessed with a wonderful staff and board of trustees, but the truth is that none of our past, present, or future success would be possible without one key ingredient: you. I once asked a rabbi of a huge congregation just how important "lay leadership" was to the congregation. I was very young, and had little to no understanding of how things actually worked in a synagogue (as was evidenced by that question!). He looked at me and said, "Your lay leadership and volunteers are everything. Without them, you can't get anything done." How true that has proven to be over the years! We simply can't do the work of building sacred community without you.

As we settle into summer with a new year not too far away, I wanted to take a moment to thank all of you who have helped make Congregation Torat El the wonderful community that it is today. AND, I wanted to take a moment to invite each of you to participate, to get involved, to volunteer and bring your light to your community. There are so many ways to get involved, so many ideas that need supporting, and so many ideas waiting to be born.

As we begin our new program year in the fall, please be on the lookout for new ways to get involved, and new volunteer recruitment mechanisms to help you connect more deeply to your Congregation Torat El family. We will be looking to match individuals with our needs based on interest, availability and skill sets and would love to create opportunities for you to give back in a way that is meaningful to you. If there are new ideas for programs, practices, or ideas that align with our mission, and you would like to see us embrace, please don't hesitate to reach out to me, Pam, or a member of our board of trustees. We are so blessed to have each of you as a part of our synagogue family. We are grateful for your membership and eager to deepen your connection and strengthen our community as we move toward a bright future together!
